
SJR SECURITY CONSULTING SERVICES, LLC

Steven W. Rutledge

Steve serves as the Chief Operating Officer of SJR Security Consulting Services, LLC bringing more than 27+ years of security experience to this role. A veteran of the United States Marine Corps, Mr. Rutledge holds a bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Chadwick University.

SJR Security Consulting Services, LLC, a Veteran Owned Small Business (Certification Pending), provides expertise and problem solving solutions to security challenges for both government agencies and private sector companies. SJR delivers results to complex security issues while providing flexible, "as needed" consulting services and hands-on support with full range of security consulting services including:

- Security Strategy & Program Management
- Policy & Procedures Development
- Critical Infrastructure Protection
- Risk Management
- Security Assessments
- OPSEC
- Security Education
- Crisis Management/Contingency Planning
- Workplace Violence Prevention & Planning
- Insider Threat
- Antiterrorism/Force Protection
- Physical Security and numerous other security disciplines

Mr. Rutledge currently holds a TS/SCI security clearance with polygraph. He is a member of the NSTi Board of Advisors in addition to serving as one of their instructors. Mr. Rutledge is a member of NCMS and ASIS, serving as a member of the ASIS Defense and Intelligence Council.

Prior to forming SJR, Mr. Rutledge was Vice President of Security for TASC, joining the company in 2007. At TASC he oversaw all aspects of security. This includes supporting contracts involving classified activities as well as specialized services encompassing personnel, physical, program and information systems security, operational security, document control, crisis management, international security and security education and awareness.

Prior to TASC, Mr. Rutledge served as Director of Security for the Civilian Agencies Group and the Enterprise Infrastructure group of Northrop Grumman. Prior to his positions with Northrop Grumman and TASC, Mr. Rutledge held a number of positions in the private sector supporting the Intelligence Community, Department of Defense and numerous Civilian Agencies with a focus on physical security, anti-terrorism planning, force protection, contingency planning and security risk assessments.