Mrs. Rutledge also serves as the Director of Finance and Administration for the Council for National Policy (CNP), a nonpartisan, educational foundation organized under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Its more than 400 members include the nation's premier conservative leaders in government, business, academia, media, religion, and politics.

Members gather together three times each year to:

- Build personal relationships with one another
- Strategize on ways to collaborate on achieving shared goals
- Hear from forward thinking experts on solutions to national and global problems

Mrs. Rutledge began her career with CNP in 1987 and currently oversees all of the financial and administrative matters of the organization, as well as a number of responsibilities related to event planning for the membership meetings. In addition, she serves as the Assistant Treasurer for CNP Action, Inc., the 501(c)(4) sister organization of the Council for National Policy and as Managing Director of the Conservative Action Project.

Mrs. Rutledge attended Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts. She resides in Chantilly, Virginia with her husband Steve and their two children. She is active in church and community activities and is a member of the National Association for Female Executives (NAFE) and National Association of Professional Women (NAPW).
